

Harvard architecture: In Harvard architecture there are two system busses between a CPU and two rams, one with memory and the other with instructions.

